I am pleased to announce the appointment of Kim Rassou as the Head of Discretionary Fund Management (DFM) and Retail at Old Mutual Multi-Managers, effective 1 September 2024. She brings over 20 years of experience in financial services, spanning portfolio management and analysis, investment solutions, and distribution.

Prior to that, she was an investment analyst at Satrix and a Portfolio Manager and Head of Retail Distribution in Customised Solutions at Old Mutual Investment Group. Kim returns to Old Mutual, having further honed her expertise in DFM, portfolio management, and strategic leadership.

Over the past three years, Kim has held several key positions. First as an Investment Specialist at Fundhouse, she was an important part of the team responsible for the client experience and servicing strategy. She then held various senior roles at The Apex Group, including Head of Distribution for Apex South Africa, where she spearheaded the distribution of co-branded party funds for FundRock Manco. In her new role, Kim will oversee the development and implementation of Old Mutual Multi-Managers' client value propositions and investment strategies for the retail market.
